

The Janesville Daily Gazette.

VOLUME 33

DEATH OF JEFF DAVIS.
THE CONFEDERATE LEADER EXPIRES AT NEW ORLEANS.

After Eighty-One Years of Activity the Grim Reaper Takes Him Off—Sketch of His Career.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Dec. 6.—Jefferson Davis died at 12:55 this (Friday) morning. His disease took a turn for the worse Thursday night, and all hope of his recovery was abandoned. He had been almost constantly attended by his devoted wife, and at times it seemed as though careful nursing would bring him through, but his advanced age has been all along a bar to his recovery.

Shortly before 6 o'clock Thursday evening Mr. Davis was attacked by a severe congestive chill followed by a high fever. The attack was very sudden, and up to almost that moment Mr. Davis' condition was no worse than it was at any time during the last week or ten days. In the height or his fever Mr. Davis passed into an unconscious condition, and though Mrs. Davis, who watched him with the most devoted solicitude, at times thought Mr. Davis, who was covered with a faint pressure of the hand; not a word passed his lips. Justice and Mrs. Fenner, the Payne family, Drs. Charlier and Bickham and a number of the relatives and connections of Mr. and Mrs. Davis were present in the chamber of death when the end came.

Jefferson Davis was born in Kentucky, June 3, 1808. His parents removed to Mississippi while he was a child. He entered the West Point military academy, graduating in 1828, and served against the Indians until 1835, when he resigned his commission and returned to Mississippi, where he married the daughter of George Taylor, afterwards president of the United States. He became a cotton-planter and took great interest in politics, taking a prominent part in the election of President Polk in 1843. He entered Congress in 1845, but upon the breaking out of the Mexican war he resigned his seat and joined the army as colonel of a regular company of volunteers, taking part in the storming of Monterey and the battle of Buena Vista. In 1847 he was elected United States Senator from Mississippi, and distinguished himself by the energy with which he defended slavery and advanced the doctrine of State rights. He resigned his seat in the Senate in 1851 to assist Lincoln in his campaign for the Presidency, and on Mr. Pierce's election was appointed Secretary of War. He was again elected Senator from Mississippi in 1855, but the election of Mr. Lincoln in 1860 and the secession movement led to his withdrawal. He was elected President of the Confederate States in 1861 for six years, and remained in that position until his removal in 1865. After the fall of Richmond in 1865, Mr. Davis, while trying to escape, was captured at Irwinsville, Ga., and imprisoned at Fortress Monroe for two years while awaiting trial. He was released on bail in 1867. Horace Greeley being one of his bondsmen, and all proceedings against him were subsequently discontinued. After his release he visited Europe, and on his return to this country engaged in the insurance business at Memphis, Tenn. Some years ago a wealthy lady of Mississippi left him the estate of Beauvoir in her will, and the latter years of Mr. Davis' life have been spent there. He has lived a very quiet life, his time being chiefly occupied by literary work, his "Rise and Fall of the Confederate Government," which was published in 1881, being the best of his works.

In person Mr. Davis was a man of lofty dignity, well-posed manners, and distinguished and graceful presence, from the superficial view effects of character which were the most serious—indeed, almost vital in their consequences—and which rapidly developed when he was at the head of the Confederate government. His dignity was the mask of a peculiar obstinacy, which, stimulated by an intellectual conceit, spurned the counsels of his divisors, and rejected their plans. Curiously enough, he was subservient to favorites, and unworthy men often secured his aid to their projects to the neglect of higher matters not thus ceremoniously backed. Though of broad scholarship and luminous intelligence, he had little practical judgment, his intercourse with the world was limited, and, often, his judgment of particular men was grotesque and absurd. The quick apprehension, the strong and active common sense, the great knowledge of men that distinguished President Lincoln and is the birthright of all great leaders, did not belong to Mr. Davis, but rather the eloquent and brilliant oratorical gifts which delighted the multitudes and confused the world. Admiration of the man, even among his followers, was strangely mingled with censure, and one party was extravagant in his praise, and the other unkind in his condemnation.

NEITHER MAN VICTORIOUS.

Jack McAuliffe and Mike Daly Fight a Drawn Battle at Bow-Ton.

BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 6.—The fifteen round glove fight for a prize of $1,000 winner to all, between Mike Daly of Bangor and Jack McAuliffe of New York, light weights, at the rooms of the Crib Club last night, resulted in a draw. McAuliffe weighed 144 pounds, and Daly 138 pounds. Con McAuliffe and Dan Doherty, the New Yorker, while Bill Daly and Danny Gifford, Daly, Joe Launton acted as final referee. The fight was to begin at 8:30, but there was a long wrangle over the articles of agreement, and it was after 11 o'clock when the men entered the ring.

From the first McAuliffe landed his blow when and where he pleased, and Daly acted on the defensive most of the time.

In the fourteenth and fifteenth rounds Daly appeared somewhat groggy, but kept gamely at work, and when time was up the referee declared the contest a draw.

FIVE STUDENTS SUSPENDED.

Result of the Riley Hazing Case at the University of Wisconsin.

MADISON, Wis., Dec. 6.—Charles E. Ingram of Durand, Theodore Kronsberg of Boscombe, A. M. Long of Sun Prairie, Martin Hughes of Portage, and A. F. Kellogg of Nescoke, Sheboygan county, are suspended temporarily for implication in the hazing of Riley. These five students, who refused to testify in the circuit court on the ground that they would criminate themselves.

WILL Move to Washington.

TOPEKA, Kan., Dec. 6.—Judge Brewer, who had intended to leave for Denver to open court there on Monday, changed his plans and has gone to Leavenworth, accompanied by Mrs. Brewer. He expects to remove with his family to Washington soon.

TAKE CARE OF YOUR EYES.

Dr. M. Miner, the eminent optician of Detroit, Mich., will visit every town in this country during the winter. Any one suffering with weak eyes, or eyes abraded by inferior glasses, should not fail to see him. Orders left at the post-office will be promptly attended to. No extra charge for examining or visiting patients at their homes.

Pear's soap is the most elegant toilet.

Children's cloaks cheapest at Archie Reid's.

After you have made a tour of the market call at T. J. Ziegler's for bargains in clothing.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked. I sleep well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur "not only in the best regulated families," but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvatory Oil convenient.

Take care of your eyes.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked. I sleep well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur "not only in the best regulated families," but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvatory Oil convenient.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked. I sleep well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur "not only in the best regulated families," but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvatory Oil convenient.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked. I sleep well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur "not only in the best regulated families," but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvatory Oil convenient.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked. I sleep well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur "not only in the best regulated families," but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvatory Oil convenient.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked. I sleep well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur "not only in the best regulated families," but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvatory Oil convenient.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked. I sleep well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur "not only in the best regulated families," but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvatory Oil convenient.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked. I sleep well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur "not only in the best regulated families," but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvatory Oil convenient.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked. I sleep well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur "not only in the best regulated families," but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvatory Oil convenient.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked. I sleep well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur "not only in the best regulated families," but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvatory Oil convenient.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked. I sleep well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur "not only in the best regulated families," but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvatory Oil convenient.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked. I sleep well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur "not only in the best regulated families," but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvatory Oil convenient.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked. I sleep well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur "not only in the best regulated families," but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvatory Oil convenient.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked. I sleep well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur "not only in the best regulated families," but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvatory Oil convenient.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked. I sleep well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur "not only in the best regulated families," but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvatory Oil convenient.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked. I sleep well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur "not only in the best regulated families," but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvatory Oil convenient.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked. I sleep well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur "not only in the best regulated families," but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvatory Oil convenient.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked. I sleep well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur "not only in the best regulated families," but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvatory Oil convenient.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked. I sleep well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur "not only in the best regulated families," but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvatory Oil convenient.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked. I sleep well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur "not only in the best regulated families," but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvatory Oil convenient.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked. I sleep well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur "not only in the best regulated families," but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvatory Oil convenient.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked. I sleep well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur "not only in the best regulated families," but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvatory Oil convenient.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked. I sleep well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur "not only in the best regulated families," but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvatory Oil convenient.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked. I sleep well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur "not only in the best regulated families," but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvatory Oil convenient.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked. I sleep well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur "not only in the best regulated families," but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvatory Oil convenient.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked. I sleep well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur "not only in the best regulated families," but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvatory Oil convenient.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked. I sleep well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur "not only in the best regulated families," but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvatory Oil convenient.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked. I sleep well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur "not only in the best regulated families," but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvatory Oil convenient.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked. I sleep well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur "not only in the best regulated families," but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvatory Oil convenient.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked. I sleep well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur "not only in the best regulated families," but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvatory Oil convenient.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked. I sleep well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur "not only in the best regulated families," but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvatory Oil convenient.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked. I sleep well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur "not only in the best regulated families," but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvatory Oil convenient.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked. I sleep well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur "not only in the best regulated families," but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvatory Oil convenient.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked. I sleep well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur "not only in the best regulated families," but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvatory Oil convenient.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked. I sleep well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur "not only in the best regulated families," but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvatory Oil convenient.

Mr. Jones, how is your health this morning? Thank you, madam, much improved. I bought a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup last night, and after the first dose, my cough was checked. I sleep well and have not coughed once this morning.

Accidents will occur "not only in the best regulated families," but everywhere and at all times. Therefore keep Salvatory Oil convenient.

THE GAZETTE.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 6.

Subscription and Advertising Rates.

DAILY—Per page payable in monthly instalments..... $2.00

WEEKLY—Per year, in advance..... 1.50

WE PUBLISH FREE,
Marriage, death and obituary notices, without Poetry; also notices of church and society meetings.

WE PUBLISH AT HALF RATES.

Church and society notices of entertainments
given for revenue.

THE GAZETTE.

In the best advertising medium in Southern Wisconsin, and our rates are based on our circulation, and are cheap when so considered.
Prices for local or display advertising che-
rfully furnished on application.

GAZETTE PRINTING CO.

APRIL 19, 1888.

TO-DAY'S ANNIVERSARIES.

Born: Max Muller, 1823.

Sir David Baird, 1757.

Died: Sir Trollope, 1883.

Catharine Clive, 1785.

TRANSPORT OF VENUS, 1882.

STRAYED OR STOLEN—THE SUR-PLUS.There is no point in the president's message and in the report of the secretary of the treasury that cuts a conspira-
tious figure when discussing the question of revising the tariff or abolishing
any part of the internal revenue—the
of the surplus.The country was led to believe during the campaign of 1884, that there was an annual surplus of so many millions
that it became dangerous to the government, and one of the many promises the democrats made in that strange campaign was that they would reduce the surplus. The twaddle of the campaign of 1884 on the surplus was that it amounted to over $100,000,000, but when the democratic treasurer got hold of the finances he found it was not even that if all the pension bills were paid promptly and in full. The report of Secretary Windom shows that from the estimates made for the coming year, and after due provision shall have been made for meeting the ordinary expenses of the government, including the requirements of the sinking fund, there
will remain, under the operation of existing laws, an annual surplus of revenue of about $41,000,000.On this point one of the ablest and non-partisan writers on finance in this country, says:The surplus can not be said to be a tax-exempt asset as a reserve for a first-class power. It is not desirable just now either to begin borrowing or to draw
on the banks, for with a fixed volume of currency we can not get any more money. The only way to replenish the exchequer would be to sell bonds
in Europe and import goods, or issue
more legal tenders, which last would be a popular method with the remaining admirers of the war currency. It is temporary, and for a few millions only, the irredeemable inflation would not exert
such explosive pressure on our large stock of gold.Now suppose that the sugar duty be reduced one-half that is $28,000,000,
which should be done, and the internal
tax be taken of tobacco and spirits used in the arts and sciences, that is $35,000, 000 more; and the free list of imported
articles be increased as the president suggests, and wisely too, say to the amount of only $10,000,000, all told is a reduction of $73,000,000. And suppose you take $3,000,000 from $44,000,000,
how much would there be left? And in fact of this arithmetical question the pension and other expenditures of the government on the increase! It is impossible for the expedite to decrease while the country
grows larger, while all the appliances of the government, and the pension list, are rapidly on the increase.The surplus is a bugbear. It does not exist; and to those who pretended that
the internal revenue can be abolished in
most part and impost duties cut down,
without making a shortage in the pocket
book of Uncle Sam, will do an auxiliary favor.

WISDOM WAS IN HIS PEN.

The message will act like the beat of the long roll upon a slumbering camp.He has called the gauntlet to the Bourbon and free trade parties, and challenged them to combat. They accept the gage of battle; while the republican hosts, shaking off their spaths, will rush to the fray with newly-inspired vigor. There will be no more inaction, no more lack of support of the republican executive. Benjamin Harrison in his first message to congress, has shown himself a worthy leader of a mighty party cause, and no republican
who really believes in the principles of his party will fail to give him his hearty and unswerving support.—Trotter Blade.President Harrison has done much to confound his enemies—the democrats and mungwumps—by wisely suggesting to congress the need of tariff reform.What the president has to say on the question is quite unfortunate for the democracy, because it has nothing to grumble about on that line in the message. He knocked the democratic tariff reforms cold when he put in his message
such a sentence as this: "I recommend a revision of our tariff law, both in its administrative features and in the schedules."The democrats didn't want any sentence of that kind in the message,
because they claimed it was stealing
their political thunder. Then the president worried the democrats again by advising the putting on the free list such articles that do not offer injurious competition to such domestic products as
our home labor can supply."President Harrison is a statesman:
He seems to know what is best for the country, and what is best for the republican party to do. His judgment may be warped on the abolition of the tobacco tax, but it is level on most other things.Here is how he gets around one point—
that of the unreasonableness and uncertainty in trade by changing the tariff schedules:"This temporary ill effect will be reduced to the minimum by prompt action
and by the assurance which the countryalready enjoys that any necessary changes will be so made as not to impair the just and reasonable protection of our home industries."The way to move in any great public question like that of revising the tariff when congress knows what sort of a revision
to adopt, it is to move promptly and be done with it. This kind of work, weshowed the statesmanship of the party, and will not unsettle business.It is hoped that congress will follow
the recommendations of President Harrison. There are no doubt some inequalities in the present tariff schedules. The country is growing stronger, industries
are becoming more permanent in their character, and if the tariff can be revised
at all, it should be revised by its friends and not be assailed by its enemies.The work of revision can best be done
by the republican party, for in all its work on the tariff law it will keep in mind the importance surrounding the industries of the country with such protection as shall defend them from the assaults of free trade.Any revision that shall put on the free list all such articles that are not largely manufactured in this country, will be one of public good,
and will receive the endorsement of the people. There is much room for revision and still keep within the limits of President Harrison's suggestions.The following is the method adopted by the democratic governor of West Virginia to give the certificates of election to congress to a democrat in the fourth district of that state instead of to Chas. B. Smith, the republican who was elected. In forwarding the returns from one of the counties to the governor, the county
clerk in spelling out "two" failed to close the letter "o" at the top. The democratic governor decided that he had no
business to change the letter, and it was
"two" as it stood, and hence must mean
"twelve," which have two majority to the democratic candidate, and the governor awarded him the certificate.The county clerk who wrote out the return made affidavit that it was "two" and not "twelve," but as the correct return
elected the republican by seven majorities, the governor refused to make out the proper certificate and the democrat is now on the house roll.—Milwaukee Sentinel.But just wait and see how quick a republican house will put a top to that "o"
and make a two out of it. It is democratic policy and purely democratic methods that will make twelve out of
two. That is the kind of work democratic leaders like to do. If there is any one thing the democratic party likes to show another, it is to outrage a ballot
box. It takes to that as a Kentuckian takes to bourbon.With a majority in both houses and a
republican president in office, that party
becomes completely responsible for all
that is done or left undone. It has power
or at every point. What will it do with it?—New York World.Well, it will do what the democrats
never have done—make good use of it.If the democratic filibusters do not prevent the republicans will enact a good
federal election law, revise the tariff, improve the civil service, cut down the
revenue—though not much—and do several other things that will honor them
and benefit the country.The silver problem will never be solved
unless we make it a point to free
and unlimited coined in our mint, and it would be better for congress to do
the right thing at once than to temporize
longer with a question which must soon be settled.—Denver Republican.The silver states will have to throw up their hats, for President Harrison is scratching them on the back. The Pacific states are bound to go for Harrison
in '92.The Kentucky winter is the best one in the country. The thermometer rarely takes a drop too much.—Courier Journal.The best part of Kentucky, then, is the weather, and the soberest thing in the state is the thermometer. The peculiar part of Kentucky will never do themselves
full honor until they follow the example of their thermometers.It is like biting a steel nail for the mugwump papers to criticize the president's message; but they go at it with queer faces and are doing the best they can to keep their reputation.The almighty S is bound to get the United States senatorship from Ohio.
In Ohio politics it is the bone and sinew
of success.The greatest fault the democrats can find with the president's message is that it wasn't delivered by democrats.

ANCIENT BRIDGES IN CHINA.

Early Acquaintance of the Celestial
With Engineering Science.The Chinese suspension bridges,
dating from the time of the Han dynasty (202 B. C. to 220 A. D.), furnish striking evidence, of the early acquire-ment of the Chinese with engineering science. According to the historical and geographical writers of China it was Shang Sieng, the commander of the army under Kien Tsu, who undertook the construction of the roads in the province of Shense, to the west of the capital, the high mountains and deep gorges of which could be reached only by circuitous routes. At the head of an army of 10,000 workmen Shang
Leung cut through mountains and filled
up the valleys with the soil obtained from the excavations. Where, however, this was not sufficient to raise
a road high enough, he built bridges,
resting upon abutments or the mountains
themselves were separated by deep gorges, he carried out a plan of throwing suspension bridges, stretching from one slope to the other. These bridges, appropriately called by the Chinese writers
"flying" bridges, are sometimes so high, as to inspire those who cross
them with fear. At the present day
there is still a bridge in existence in Shense, which stretches across a gorge
of immense depth. Most of the bridges are only wide enough to allow of the passage of two mounted men, railing
on both sides serving for the protection of travelers. It is not improbable that the missionaries who first reported on Chinese bridges two centuries ago gave
the initiative to the construction of suspension bridges in the West.Pear's soap secures a beautiful complexion.

FOR THE HOLIDAYS.

THE GAZETTE STEAM BINDER! READY FOR HOLIDAY WORK.Mr. S. W. Benedict is now taking orders for the Gazette Steam Binder,
which is making a specialty of binding work. Persons having books to bind, may send them direct to Mr. S. W. Benedict, or send them direct to the binder, and their will receive prompt attention. Our new double cloth joints are put in all books
and all work performed in a first class manner and delivered when promised.

GAZETTE STEAM BINDER.

Pear's soap is the pure and best soap
ever made.

STOLE THE MEMBERS PAY.

THE CASHIER OF THE HOUSE AN
ABSCONDER.He Leaves for Canada With $75,000 of Funds Belonging to Congressmen
—Washington Gossip.WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The announcement was made in the House this morning
that C. C. Silcott, cashier of the House
Bank of the House of Representatives, has disappeared, with $75,000 of government funds
intended for payment of members of Congress, and is now probably in Canada. Silcott was from Ohio and left here on Saturday.Silscott's downfall and defalcation are understood to be due to stock speculation and gambling. He was a frequent visitor at the stock exchange and race-tracks.
He supported a mistress and led generally
a pretty fast life. Leedom, sergeant-at-arms, to whom he was assistant, is under bond of $10,000. It is also reported that Silcott took $10,000 of money belonging to Leedom. Silcott's defalcations total $100,000.It appears that it had been the general
custom for members of the House to deposit nine blank receipts for their pay for the nine months between sessions, with the understanding that the sergeant-at-arms
would draw the money for them and send it to them. Silcott was accustomed to take these receipts to the treasury, draw
the money, get exchange and bank
notes and then cash them all right
month after month until the very last month of his term of office. On Nov.
27 Silcott presented himself to United States Cashier True with a bunch of certificates amounting to $16,000. These certificates were signed by C. C. Silcott in the absence of Speaker Carlyle, as well as by all the members of the House for whose salaries they were drawn.
Silcott represented to the cashier that the next day being Thanksgiving it was very desirable that he should have the money on Wednesday, as there was no
balance on which to draw for the members' salaries then due. To accommodate the speaker, Silcott cashed all the certificates
it is a rule not to pay the sergeant-at-arms
any money before the 30th of the month.
On Friday, Nov. 29, he brought up another bundle of certificates, also amounting to $36,000, and on Saturday a larger bundle for $50,000. Thus in three days he drew $132,000 from the treasury.With a majority in both houses and a
republican president in office, that party
becomes completely responsible for all
that is done or left undone. It has power
or at every point. What will it do with
it?—New York World.Well, it will do what the democrats
never have done—make good use of it.If the democratic filibusters do not prevent the republicans will enact a good
federal election law, revise the tariff, im-
prove the civil service, cut down the
revenue—though not much—and do several other things that will honor them
and benefit the country.The committee, which has authority to administer oaths and to report at whole or in part at any time, was appointed by the Speaker as follows: Messrs. Adams, Holman, Blount and Hemphill. The Speaker also appointed the following committees:On Rules—The Speaker and Messrs.
McKinley, Cannon, Carlisle and Randall.
On Accounts—Messrs. Spooner, Booth-man, Kelley of Kansas, McCord, Hansborough, Hayes, Grimes, Lee and Kerr of Pennsylvania.On Enrolled Bills—Messrs. Kennedy, Townsend of Pennsylvania, Moore of New Hampshire, Kilgore and Williams.The House then adjourned until Monday.

THE LAW DEPARTMENT.

Annual Report of Attorney-General Miller.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The annual report of Attorney-General Miller has been made public. During the year 2,237 civil suits and 14,533 criminal prosecutions were terminated, and there are pending 2,950 of the former and 7,812 of the latter class. Mr. Miller recommends that provisions be made in a bill to be introduced in the next session of Congress for the establishment of a United States reformatory, the latter being intended for the confinement of the milder class of criminals. It is also urged that a prison bureau be established in the Department of Justice, where criminals can be gathered, collated and recorded in a permanent form the criminal statistics of the United States. The Attorney-General
also recommends that the law be changed
so as to make it easier for the trial of cases in the federal courts, and that changes in the judicial system which will enable the courts, and especially the Supreme court, to dispose of accumulated
business and in this connection calls particular attention to the "Davis bill," which was fully set forth in the report of his predecessor for 1885. The resistance in certain Southern communities to the election of negroes and protection for individuals themselves are set out and an increased appropriation is asked for court expenses in
of the middle of his term.

LASHED NEARLY TO DEATH.

A Negro Convict Near New Orleans Given
245 Blows on the Bare Back.NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 6.—William Miller,
an ex-convict, was admitted to a hospital. The doctor told a frightened relative of the brutality to which convicts in "Captain" Sanchez's convict camp in the Catobella parish are subjected. When the surgeon examined Miller they found that the skin and portions of the flesh had been terribly lacerated from the middle of his back down to his knees. He had been flogged until the flesh
was torn in the shreds. It was found that he could not lie on or support
covering on his back, and it was necessary
to place a wooden rack over him to prevent the sheets from touching his flesh.
Miller stated that he had been convicted of petty larceny and sentenced to ten months'
hard labor at the state's camp. Before the opinion of his term he was informed of the anomaly of another negro, who told Sanchez
Miller had threatened to kill him, and Sanchez ordered another convict to give Miller 245 lashes on the bare back with a heavy wagon trace. Miller fainted
after the first fifty lashes, and when he was dressed after forty great pieces of flesh were torn from his back. Miller says that other convicts are terribly beaten and unmercifully treated.We secured these Shirts for cash
at a great sacrifice to the manufacturer. Are actually worth $1.25 to $1.50. Don't miss this sale, commencing Saturday, Nov. 9th.

FRANK H. BAACK & CO.

Clothiers, - Gents' - Furnishers - and - Hatters,

22 West Milwaukee Street.

Newest Stock, Best Goods, and Never Under sold.

INSURANCE AND REAL ESTATE

At the Insurance and Real Estate office from 10th to 12th floor in the Jackman Block, is

RAILROAD TIME TABLE
Chicago & Northwestern
Trains at JANESEVILLE Station
DEPART.

THE GAZETTE.

PUBLISHED BY THE GAZETTE PRINTING CO.
OF JANESEVILLE WIS., TERMS DAILY $0.25
OR 15¢ PER DAY CASE IN ADVANCE.
P. F. BLISS,
PRESIDENT
IRVING & MANAGERS
JOHN C. SPENCER,
CITY EDITOR
SECRETARY.

ENOCH'S LOSS AND GAIN.

Together they tried, little Enoch leaning on his crutch and the old lady standing on tip-toes and poking with a stick. Finally it was brought down.

"There's a hole in it," exclaimed Enoch. "Oh, my beautiful kite."

"Never mind, little man," said the sweet lady, "bring your kite into the house and we will see."

He followed, awe-stricken, up the stone steps and down the long hall. He raised his eyes as he entered the big, beautiful room, from which he could see the flowers beyond.

"My beautiful lady!" he exclaimed, gazing at the picture of a young girl which hung over the fire-place. "The lady that I see so much on the com-

"You never see her, my little man," said the old lady gently.

"Not so nuff, mebbe," he answered, "but er heap er times, when I'm er thinkin', an' oner, et long time erago, she did come for sho; I know, 'cause she kissed me an' she looked just like this, only she was paler an' more sorry like."

The lady knelt down on the floor beside the boy, and, taking his little face in her trembling hands, looked in a strange way into his beautiful eyes and said:

"Tell me who you are, child; who is Granny, and what is your name?"

"Granny, she lives out on the pike, and sells vegetables. She takes care of me, but she says she ain't no kin ter me, an' that my own mother died an' Enoch Estell."

"Enoch Estell! My God!" the old lady exclaimed.

And by and before Enoch knew what was happening, there was a hurrying of servants coming and going, and the old lady was telling him he must go with her in the carriage to where Granny lived.

He waited without on the steps, while the sweet lady went in to talk to Granny. He could not think what they could be talking about; he did not know what it all meant. Presently he saw Granny go into the little room and get the picture and letters which she had told him were to be his some day, and the "sweet lady" cried when she saw them. She was crying still when she came out, and putting her arms about his neck told him he was to go and live with her. She told him then, but he did not understand it till afterward, that the beautiful lady whom he remembered was his mother and her own daughter, whom she had not seen for so many years—not since she married and went away.

It was many months after, when Enoch had grown accustomed to his new home in the big house, that he said one day to his grandmother:

"Grandmother, we never did mend our kite, did we?"

"No, my child, do you want it?" she asked.

"Please, grandmother dear, let's keep it just as it is, 'cause it did bring me to you, and the flowers, and— and everything just like I dreamed it would when I sat on my big stone by the water-cresses."

"Would anybody buy it?" inquired Enoch eagerly.

"Oh, yes," said the girls, and then showed him how to pick and wash it.

Enoch knew that Granny went to Mrs. Stewart's, and, conceiving a sudden purpose, he picked and washed enough cress to fill the basket. When Granny came he told her what he had, and she very willingly carried him with her to Mrs. Stewart's.

He was very proud of the dime he got for his basket of sweet cresses, and Granny said to him: "Well, all that's the first money you ever made, I wonder some one doesn't get it and sell it."

"Would anybody buy it?" inquired Enoch eagerly.

"Oh, yes," said the girls, and then showed him how to pick and wash it.

Enoch knew that Granny went to Mrs. Stewart's, and, conceiving a sudden purpose, he picked and washed enough cress to fill the basket. When Granny came he told her what he had, and she very willingly carried him with her to Mrs. Stewart's.

He was very proud of the dime he got for his basket of sweet cresses, and Granny said to him: "Well, all that's the first money you ever made, I wonder some one doesn't get it and sell it."

"Would anybody buy it?" inquired Enoch eagerly.

"Oh, yes," said the girls, and then showed him how to pick and wash it.

Enoch knew that Granny went to Mrs. Stewart's, and, conceiving a sudden purpose, he picked and washed enough cress to fill the basket. When Granny came he told her what he had, and she very willingly carried him with her to Mrs. Stewart's.

He was very proud of the dime he got for his basket of sweet cresses, and Granny said to him: "Well, all that's the first money you ever made, I wonder some one doesn't get it and sell it."

"Would anybody buy it?" inquired Enoch eagerly.

"Oh, yes," said the girls, and then showed him how to pick and wash it.

Enoch knew that Granny went to Mrs. Stewart's, and, conceiving a sudden purpose, he picked and washed enough cress to fill the basket. When Granny came he told her what he had, and she very willingly carried him with her to Mrs. Stewart's.

He was very proud of the dime he got for his basket of sweet cresses, and Granny said to him: "Well, all that's the first money you ever made, I wonder some one doesn't get it and sell it."

"Would anybody buy it?" inquired Enoch eagerly.

"Oh, yes," said the girls, and then showed him how to pick and wash it.

Enoch knew that Granny went to Mrs. Stewart's, and, conceiving a sudden purpose, he picked and washed enough cress to fill the basket. When Granny came he told her what he had, and she very willingly carried him with her to Mrs. Stewart's.

He was very proud of the dime he got for his basket of sweet cresses, and Granny said to him: "Well, all that's the first money you ever made, I wonder some one doesn't get it and sell it."

"Would anybody buy it?" inquired Enoch eagerly.

"Oh, yes," said the girls, and then showed him how to pick and wash it.

Enoch knew that Granny went to Mrs. Stewart's, and, conceiving a sudden purpose, he picked and washed enough cress to fill the basket. When Granny came he told her what he had, and she very willingly carried him with her to Mrs. Stewart's.

He was very proud of the dime he got for his basket of sweet cresses, and Granny said to him: "Well, all that's the first money you ever made, I wonder some one doesn't get it and sell it."

"Would anybody buy it?" inquired Enoch eagerly.

"Oh, yes," said the girls, and then showed him how to pick and wash it.

Enoch knew that Granny went to Mrs. Stewart's, and, conceiving a sudden purpose, he picked and washed enough cress to fill the basket. When Granny came he told her what he had, and she very willingly carried him with her to Mrs. Stewart's.

He was very proud of the dime he got for his basket of sweet cresses, and Granny said to him: "Well, all that's the first money you ever made, I wonder some one doesn't get it and sell it."

"Would anybody buy it?" inquired Enoch eagerly.

"Oh, yes," said the girls, and then showed him how to pick and wash it.

Enoch knew that Granny went to Mrs. Stewart's, and, conceiving a sudden purpose, he picked and washed enough cress to fill the basket. When Granny came he told her what he had, and she very willingly carried him with her to Mrs. Stewart's.

He was very proud of the dime he got for his basket of sweet cresses, and Granny said to him: "Well, all that's the first money you ever made, I wonder some one doesn't get it and sell it."

"Would anybody buy it?" inquired Enoch eagerly.

"Oh, yes," said the girls, and then showed him how to pick and wash it.

Enoch knew that Granny went to Mrs. Stewart's, and, conceiving a sudden purpose, he picked and washed enough cress to fill the basket. When Granny came he told her what he had, and she very willingly carried him with her to Mrs. Stewart's.

He was very proud of the dime he got for his basket of sweet cresses, and Granny said to him: "Well, all that's the first money you ever made, I wonder some one doesn't get it and sell it."

"Would anybody buy it?" inquired Enoch eagerly.

"Oh, yes," said the girls, and then showed him how to pick and wash it.

Enoch knew that Granny went to Mrs. Stewart's, and, conceiving a sudden purpose, he picked and washed enough cress to fill the basket. When Granny came he told her what he had, and she very willingly carried him with her to Mrs. Stewart's.

He was very proud of the dime he got for his basket of sweet cresses, and Granny said to him: "Well, all that's the first money you ever made, I wonder some one doesn't get it and sell it."

"Would anybody buy it?" inquired Enoch eagerly.

"Oh, yes," said the girls, and then showed him how to pick and wash it.

Enoch knew that Granny went to Mrs. Stewart's, and, conceiving a sudden purpose, he picked and washed enough cress to fill the basket. When Granny came he told her what he had, and she very willingly carried him with her to Mrs. Stewart's.

He was very proud of the dime he got for his basket of sweet cresses, and Granny said to him: "Well, all that's the first money you ever made, I wonder some one doesn't get it and sell it."

"Would anybody buy it?" inquired Enoch eagerly.

"Oh, yes," said the girls, and then showed him how to pick and wash it.

Enoch knew that Granny went to Mrs. Stewart's, and, conceiving a sudden purpose, he picked and washed enough cress to fill the basket. When Granny came he told her what he had, and she very willingly carried him with her to Mrs. Stewart's.

He was very proud of the dime he got for his basket of sweet cresses, and Granny said to him: "Well, all that's the first money you ever made, I wonder some one doesn't get it and sell it."

"Would anybody buy it?" inquired Enoch eagerly.

"Oh, yes," said the girls, and then showed him how to pick and wash it.

Enoch knew that Granny went to Mrs. Stewart's, and, conceiving a sudden purpose, he picked and washed enough cress to fill the basket. When Granny came he told her what he had, and she very willingly carried him with her to Mrs. Stewart's.

He was very proud of the dime he got for his basket of sweet cresses, and Granny said to him: "Well, all that's the first money you ever made, I wonder some one doesn't get it and sell it."

"Would anybody buy it?" inquired Enoch eagerly.

"Oh, yes," said the girls, and then showed him how to pick and wash it.

Enoch knew that Granny went to Mrs. Stewart's, and, conceiving a sudden purpose, he picked and washed enough cress to fill the basket. When Granny came he told her what he had, and she very willingly carried him with her to Mrs. Stewart's.

He was very proud of the dime he got for his basket of sweet cresses, and Granny said to him: "Well, all that's the first money you ever made, I wonder some one doesn't get it and sell it."

"Would anybody buy it?" inquired Enoch eagerly.

"Oh, yes," said the girls, and then showed him how to pick and wash it.

Enoch knew that Granny went to Mrs. Stewart's, and, conceiving a sudden purpose, he picked and washed enough cress to fill the basket. When Granny came he told her what he had, and she very willingly carried him with her to Mrs. Stewart's.

He was very proud of the dime he got for his basket of sweet cresses, and Granny said to him: "Well, all that's the first money you ever made, I wonder some one doesn't get it and sell it."

"Would anybody buy it?" inquired Enoch eagerly.

"Oh, yes," said the girls, and then showed him how to pick and wash it.

Enoch knew that Granny went to Mrs. Stewart's, and, conceiving a sudden purpose, he picked and washed enough cress to fill the basket. When Granny came he told her what he had, and she very willingly carried him with her to Mrs. Stewart's.

He was very proud of the dime he got for his basket of sweet cresses, and Granny said to him: "Well, all that's the first money you ever made, I wonder some one doesn't get it and sell it."

"Would anybody buy it?" inquired Enoch eagerly.

"Oh, yes," said the girls, and then showed him how to pick and wash it.

Enoch knew that Granny went to Mrs. Stewart's, and, conceiving a sudden purpose, he picked and washed enough cress to fill the basket. When Granny came he told her what he had, and she very willingly carried him with her to Mrs. Stewart's.

He was very proud of the dime he got for his basket of sweet cresses, and Granny said to him: "Well, all that's the first money you ever made, I wonder some one doesn't get it and sell it."

"Would anybody buy it?" inquired Enoch eagerly.

"Oh, yes," said the girls, and then showed him how to pick and wash it.

Enoch knew that Granny went to Mrs. Stewart's, and, conceiving a sudden purpose, he picked and washed enough cress to fill the basket. When Granny came he told her what he had, and she very willingly carried him with her to Mrs. Stewart's.

He was very proud of the dime he got for his basket of sweet cresses, and Granny said to him: "Well, all that's the first money you ever made, I wonder some one doesn't get it and sell it."

"Would anybody buy it?" inquired Enoch eagerly.

"Oh, yes," said the girls, and then showed him how to pick and wash it.

Enoch knew that Granny went to Mrs. Stewart's, and, conceiving a sudden purpose, he picked and washed enough cress to fill the basket. When Granny came he told her what he had, and she very willingly carried him with her to Mrs. Stewart's.

He was very proud of the dime he got for his basket of sweet cresses, and Granny said to him: "Well, all that's the first money you ever made, I wonder some one doesn't get it and sell it."

"Would anybody buy it?" inquired Enoch eagerly.

"Oh, yes," said the girls, and then showed him how to pick and wash it.

Enoch knew that Granny went to Mrs. Stewart's, and, conceiving a sudden purpose, he picked and washed enough cress to fill the basket. When Granny came he told her what he had, and she very willingly carried him with her to Mrs. Stewart's.

He was very proud of the dime he got for his basket of sweet cresses, and Granny said to him: "Well, all that's the first money you ever made, I wonder some one doesn't get it and sell it."

"Would anybody buy it?" inquired Enoch eagerly.

"Oh, yes," said the girls, and then showed him how to pick and wash it.

Enoch knew that Granny went to Mrs. Stewart's, and, conceiving a sudden purpose, he picked and washed enough cress to fill the basket. When Granny came he told her what he had, and she very willingly carried him with her to Mrs. Stewart's.

He was very proud of the dime he got for his basket of sweet cresses, and Granny said to him: "Well, all that's the first money you ever made, I wonder some one doesn't get it and sell it."

"Would anybody buy it?" inquired Enoch eagerly.

"Oh, yes," said the girls, and then showed him how to pick and wash it.

Enoch knew that Granny went to Mrs. Stewart's, and, conceiving a sudden purpose, he picked and washed enough cress to fill the basket. When Granny came he told her what he had, and she very willingly carried him with her to Mrs. Stewart's.

He was very proud of the dime he got for his basket of sweet cresses, and Granny said to him: "Well, all that's the first money you ever made, I wonder some one doesn't get it and sell it."

"Would anybody buy it?" inquired Enoch eagerly.

"Oh, yes," said the girls, and then showed him how to pick and wash it.

Enoch knew that Granny went to Mrs. Stewart's, and, conceiving a sudden purpose, he picked and washed enough cress to fill the basket. When Granny came he told her what he had, and she very willingly carried him with her to Mrs. Stewart's.

He was very proud of the dime he got for his basket of sweet cresses, and Granny said to him: "Well, all that's the first money you ever made, I wonder some one doesn't get it and sell it."

"Would anybody buy it?" in

THE GAZETTE.

THE OFFICIAL CITY PAPER.

AVERAGE CIRCULATION OF DAILY AND WEEKLY 8,500.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Call and see our display before you select a holiday present.

STEARS & BAKER.

Fine ladies' Dongola kid shoes at $1.50.

M. SAMUELS.

If you will consult the clairvoyant physician and business medium, she will give you correct information upon every subject. Permanent location, Central House parlors. Office hours 10 a. m. to 9 p. m.

A nice line of slippers for the holidays. Call and see. M. SAMUELS.

The Maple Grove Dairy will sell milk hereafter at four cents per quart. Particulars to purchase tickets, can obtain them from the driver on the wagon.

C. A. DOWNING.

WANTED—A girl for general housework, at 111 South Main street.

Burns & Boland are offering the greatest bargains in cloaks of any house in the city.

Grubb Bros. cash grocers, corner Milwaukee and Jackson streets.

The finest display of holiday presents in the city at Burns & Boland's.

New stores, new goods and prices right at Grubb Bros.'

If you want the most stylish cloak in the city for the least money, go to Burns & Boland's.

NOTICE TO FARMERS—You will find our stock of wool boots and overalls complete, and our prices will be as before, always the lowest.

BROWN BROS.

T. J. Ziegler advertises a fire sale without the fire. He is selling clothing at bargains just the same.

Have you seen the 5A five mile horse blanket? If not, why not? If you have a horse, you need one.

CLOAKS—We show them by the car load. ARCHIE REID.

Headquarters for all the latest novelties in fancy work, wedding and holiday presents, for plain and fancy yarns, the most complete line of toys in the city are at Spoon & Snyder's.

No such a stock of cloaks in the northwest as we are now showing. ARCHIE REID.

Underwear, hose and gloves at astonishing low prices at Burns & Boland's.

Fine Malaga grapes, Florida oranges and Dehesha cluster raisins at Grubb Bros.

We are determined to close out our entire line of cloaks this season, and will make prices from now on that will do it. BURNS & BOLAND.

There is nothing more appropriate for a Christmas present than a nice dress; and in order to give everyone a chance to buy one, we have made a great out on all kinds of dress goods, silk, plashes and velvets, at Burns & Boland's.

Our choice Michigan apples at Grubb Bros., $2.75 per barrel.

Handsome wall pockets, 25 cents and $1.00 at Wheats'; comb and brush sets 75 cents, up; fairy lamps; paper lamps; Keystone and Dover egg beaters; 100 styles of dolls.

All groceries cheapest in the city at W. T. Vankirk's, 18 Main street.

DON'T BELIEVE IT when our credit competitor tells you that 25 cent rubbers are worthless; try a pair of our twenty-five centers and if they do not prove good wearers we will refund the price paid.

We are trying to convince you that it pays to trade at a cash store. We have Misses and child's heel and spring at same price. BROWN BROS.

1889 nuts of all kinds at Grubb Bros., a nut cracker and pick with every pound.

POLICE! POLICE! Compare the genuine Douglas police shoes with the imitations on the market and convince yourself which is the best. All we ask is a trial and we will leave the decision with you.

BROWN BROS., Agents.

The usual great holiday sale has commenced at Sutherland's bookstore.

Fine furs at J. M. Bostwick & Sons'.

Huyett's Fectoral Macilage, 35 cents, at Stears & Baker's.

Lost.—A jet setting from finger ring, initial "X", inlaid with gold in center. Return to Gazette and receive reward.

A celluloid brush, comb and mirror in a plush case for $1.25 at Stears & Baker's.

Plush comb and brush cases cheaper than ever offered, at Stears & Baker's.

Imported jams, jellies and preserves 20 and 25 cents, at Denniston's.

Hygenic tooth powder, the very best, at Stears & Baker's.

See holiday display at Stears & Baker's.

You could hardly think of buying a new cloak before looking over the largest stock in town at our store.

J. M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

Children's blackboards at Sutherland's bookstore.

HARD TIMES PRICES.

Wood all sawed twice and split. Hard maple, $7.25; second growth oak, $6.00; poplar, $5.00; pine slabs, $5.00 per cord. Best Lehigh and Scranton hard coal at prices that always sell. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

DAVID K. JEFFRIES.

Telephone 62. East side customers leave orders at Myers' grocery.

For RENT—No. 127 Madison street, good house with water, gas and modern improvements. A good barn on the premises.

FRANK DANO;

58 Jackson Street.

House with barn to let; also house without barn.

J. W. NASH.

BRIEFLETS.

—Fine December day this.

—"Cream" chases a specialty at Fred Vankirk's.

—Fred Vankirk's tea prizes are "winners." Go and get one.

—The Tourist Club will meet at the Congregational church parlor this evening.

—Mrs. Wm. M. Eldredge entertained the Whist Club very pleasantly last evening.

—The Tourist Club will meet at the parlors of the Congregational church at 7:30 this evening.

—Fancy "Albany buckwheat" flour and a pure maple syrup, at Fred Vankirk's.

—Landlord John Kenyon is making improvements on his European Hotel, Nos. 205-7 Wall street.

—Those desiring to study violin or guitar with F. W. Spender, call immediately at the telephone office.

—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Huguenin has been brightened by the advent of a baby boy. All doing well.

—John Winegar, Mrs. Ida McKibben, and Miss Jessie Wilcox, all of McKinley, dined at the Park Hotel to-day.

—It is said that a physician has under his care a young man of this city who has become deranged from smoking cigarettes.

—There was a harmless scrap down on Court street the other evening in which finger nails and carriage sponges figured. No damage.

—Miss Maranda McNatt, of Rockford, is in the city visiting her brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Patch, 255 Glen street.

—On Friday evening the 13th inst., the ladies of the Congregational church will give a supper and sale at their rooms in the chapel.

—Book Fair Encampment No. 3, O. O. F., occupy Odd Fellows hall this evening—regular semi-monthly meeting and election of officers.

—Don't forget the Presbyterian social to-night at the Misses Williams, No. 121 Madison street. Supper at six o'clock. All will be made welcome.

—Mr. A. M. Billings, president of the Home National Bank, of Chicago, is transacting business in the city. He is registered at the Park Hotel.

—A strange cat wandered up into the court house to-day, and will hereafter be known as Judge Bennett's big dog—one of the privileged characters of that institution.

—The next party given by the Terpsichorean Club will be at Columbia hall Monday evening, December 9th. Smith & Anderson's orchestra will furnish the music.

—Will Davis has been making improvements on his property, No. 10 Elflin street. The old rubbish has all been cleared away and things slicked up generally.

—Miss Maggie McCue entertained a few friends in a very pleasing manner last evening, at the home of her mother, Mrs. Mary McCue, No. 303 South Jackson street.

—There will be a meeting of the Woman's Suffrage Association to-morrow (Saturday) afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. A prompt attendance of every member is desired.

—A complete line of fruits, nuts, candies, etc., cheap at Fred Vankirk's.

—People's Lodge No. 460, Independent Order of Good Templars, assemble in regular semi-monthly meeting this evening—lodge room in the Smith block, East Milwaukee street.

—The case of Frank L. Stevens against the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company is still on trial in the circuit court and will probably take to-day and to-morrow.

—Mr. Frank G. Stevens, of Darien, has been shaking hands with old friends in the city for a day or two. He leaves to-morrow morning for Independence, Iowa, and goes from there home.

—The Lewis Knitting Company of Janesville, capital stock, $75,000; incorporators, F. F. Lewis, J. M. Bostwick and Geo. M. McKey, filed articles of association with the secretary of state yesterday.

—The Empire Cross Spring Co. shipped one of their laundry wagons to Messrs. Fisher & Moore, Aurora, Ill., yesterday. They also shipped one to Mr. Myhr & Gecclie, of Elgin, Ill., last week.

—The St. Cecilia Musical society was pleasantly entertained by Mrs. W. S. Jeffries, No. 20 South Franklin street, yesterday afternoon. A very fine programme was presented and all report a beneficial meeting.

—Those who attended the dance at La Prairie Grange hall last night report a most enjoyable time. Smith & Anderson's orchestra furnished the music and the party did not break up until early this morning.

—Messrs. McDonnell and Lass, claim agent and civil engineer of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway company, are attending the trial of the case of Stevens against the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Co.

—The Cross has been struck by a lightning bolt on their home in overcast, and a local paper reports that when a young man is seen walking on the street with his girl it is hard to distinguish which is Algernon and which is Angelina.

—The celebrated "Banana" hams and breakfast bacon, only at Fred Vankirk's.

—The Rock County Caledonia Society dedicated their rooms in the Bennett block with a very pleasant entertainment and dance last evening. The society have secured the rooms formerly occupied by the public library, and have them fixed up very nicely for their headquarters.

—It the good people who live north of the city, see three or four apprentices traveling around the country armed to the teeth, they need not think that it is Jesse James and his gang. It is only a party of city sportsmen in pursuit of the frisky cottontail and ferocious squirrel.

—Mrs. S. A. S. S. desires to announce that owing to the fact that the store she occupies on Main street has been sold, she will dispose of her stock for the next thirty days at cost. She has a fine assortment of holiday goods, and will offer bargains in hats and bonnets never before offered in Janesville. Call and see her.

—Mr. Joseph W. Echlin will bring suit in the next term of the circuit court for the recovery of his shooting outfit. He and City Clerk Bates shipped their guns, etc., from Oshkosh about seven weeks ago, and have heard nothing from them since. They were valued at one hundred and ninety-four dollars.

—The first party of the season given by Oriental Lodge No. 22, Knights of Pythias, was held at Castle Hall last evening. The attendance was very large, and all who were present declared it a decided success. The music was furnished by the newly organized orchestra of Kent & Gray, and was excellent. These parties will be given every two weeks.

—The Tourist Club will meet at the Congregational church parlor this evening.

—Mrs. Wm. M. Eldredge entertained the Whist Club very pleasantly last evening.

—The Tourist Club will meet at the parlors of the Congregational church at 7:30 this evening.

—Fancy "Albany buckwheat" flour and a pure maple syrup, at Fred Vankirk's.

—Landlord John Kenyon is making improvements on his European Hotel, Nos. 205-7 Wall street.

—Those desiring to study violin or guitar with F. W. Spender, call immediately at the telephone office.

—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Huguenin has been brightened by the advent of a baby boy. All doing well.

—John Winegar, Mrs. Ida McKibben, and Miss Jessie Wilcox, all of McKinley, dined at the Park Hotel to-day.

—It is said that a physician has under his care a young man of this city who has become deranged from smoking cigarettes.

—The Loyal Temperance Legion will meet Saturday afternoon at three o'clock in Good Templars hall in the Court Street M. E. church block. The pins and badges are ready for the members, and some of the bannerets are ready for use. Boys and girls are invited to come and join the Legion. Friends of temperance will be welcome to any of these meetings.

—Those get more mixed than ever at A. Coburn's grocery as the days roll by. This morning a judgment was docketed in the office of the clerk of the circuit court against him in favor of Reed Murdoch & Co., of Chicago, for $1,768.77 and a levy by virtue of execution on this judgment was made at once. Several city creditors also have claims against him. It was rumored that Mr. Coburn would make a voluntary assignment.

—A State Sunday School Convention will be held at Madison, December 10-12.

—The first Monday will therefore be the last day of grace for those offering deer, buck, doe or fawn for sale," said a warden.

—"The fine for selling such animals will be $25 in every case, and the dealers had better dispose of their stock in the course of this week. We shall begin to scour the country after December 15th, that is after the fowl season."

—A State Sunday School Convention will be held at Madison, December 10-12.

—The choice programme is now being prepared. B. F. Jacobs, Esq., the father of the International System, and perhaps the foremost Sunday school worker in the world, will take a leading part in this convention, assisted by other workers of national reputation. President Reynolds, of the International Sunday School Convention, will deliver an address, Mr. Excell will take charge of the singing. Reduced rates have been secured on all the roads to that city.

—On Friday evening the 13th inst., the ladies of the Congregational church will give a supper and sale at their rooms in the chapel.

—Book Fair Encampment No. 3, O. O. F., occupy Odd Fellows hall this evening—regular semi-monthly meeting and election of officers.

—Don't forget the Presbyterian social to-night at the Misses Williams, No. 121 Madison street. Supper at six o'clock. All will be made welcome.

—Mr. A. M. Billings, president of the Home National Bank, of Chicago, is transacting business in the city. He is registered at the Park Hotel.

—A strange cat wandered up into the court house to-day, and will hereafter be known as Judge Bennett's big dog—one of the privileged characters of that institution.

—The next party given by the Terpsichorean Club will be at Columbia hall Monday evening, December 9th. Smith & Anderson's orchestra will furnish the music.

—Will Davis has been making improvements on his property, No. 10 Elflin street. The old rubbish has all been cleared away and things slicked up generally.

—Miss Maggie McCue entertained a few friends in a very pleasing manner last evening, at the home of her mother, Mrs. Mary McCue, No. 303 South Jackson street.

—There will be a meeting of the Woman's Suffrage Association to-morrow (Saturday) afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. A prompt attendance of every member is desired.

—A complete line of fruits, nuts, candies, etc., cheap at Fred Vankirk's.

—People's Lodge No. 460, Independent Order of Good Templars, assemble in regular semi-monthly meeting this evening—lodge room in the Smith block, East Milwaukee street.

—The next party given by the Terpsichorean Club will be at Columbia hall Monday evening, December 9th. Smith & Anderson's orchestra will furnish the music.

—Will Davis has been making improvements on his property, No. 10 Elflin street. The old rubbish has all been cleared away and things slicked up generally.

—Miss Maggie McCue entertained a few friends in a very pleasing manner last evening, at the home of her mother, Mrs. Mary McCue, No. 303 South Jackson street.

—There will be a meeting of the Woman's Suffrage Association to-morrow (Saturday) afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. A prompt attendance of every member is desired.

—A complete line of fruits, nuts, candies, etc., cheap at Fred Vankirk's.

—People's Lodge No. 460, Independent Order of Good Templars, assemble in regular semi-monthly meeting this evening—lodge room in the Smith block, East Milwaukee street.

—The next party given by the Terpsichorean Club will be at Columbia hall Monday evening, December 9th. Smith & Anderson's orchestra will furnish the music.

—Will Davis has been making improvements on his property, No. 10 Elflin street. The old rubbish has all been cleared away and things slicked up generally.

—Miss Maggie McCue entertained a few friends in a very pleasing manner last evening, at the home of her mother, Mrs. Mary McCue, No. 303